The Walronds is a Grade I listed, late Tudor, town house, restored in 2014 and now run by the Cullompton Walronds Conservation Trust. It had been in private ownership since it was built and retains many of its original features. After morning coffee, we shall be shown around much of the house, and after light lunch there, Chris Sidaway will help us to explore the historic town of Cullompton with its Roman antecedents and fine early C15 church.

Please use the form to book by Monday, 10th September so that we have numbers for catering. If you booked and paid for the postponed one 23rd June visit and have not asked for a refund, please just confirm to Jill Polak that you will be joining this September visit.
